Receptions to follow Ordination and Mass of Thanksgiving.
Dear Parishioners,

This past week, yet another rare event happened when John Bennett, Principal of St. Aloysius School, announced his retirement before an early morning assembly of faculty and staff. He started the meeting after an opening prayer with the usual announcements concerning the teachers. Many of them received their certificates for milestones as religious educators and he then took care of some informational items. Then I noticed he took a quick short breath and quickly and succinctly announced to his surprised staff that, “I wish to announce to you that at the end of this current school year I will retire as Principal of St. Aloysius School.” Naturally there was an initial hushed silence and plenty of tears by all. Mr. John Bennett has led our School as Principal for 30 years and he has led us in a remarkable way. A few of us have known about this announcement for several months, but it was kept quiet so that Mr. Bennett could announce this himself. Fr. Than Vu also knew that this was on the horizon. After Mr. Bennett’s announcement, he then summoned me to the speaker’s stand to make another announcement. I began by profusely thanking him for his extraordinary tenure, which everyone knows has brought numerous educational awards to St. Aloysius School and to him, all of them well deserved. The faculty and staff then gave him a standing ovation, which we should all do. Already some school representatives are organizing some appropriate ways St. Aloysius can extend to him our grateful expressions. You will be hearing about this in the future, but we will continue to enjoy his leadership for this semester.

After the standing ovation for Mr. Bennett, I made the announcement about Mrs. Erin Candilora’s appointment as the next Principal. She has been on the staff for some seven years and has demonstrated her professional skills not only as an educator, but also as an administrator, having served as assistant principal now for all that time. We are very glad to welcome her. Fr. Than Vu was well aware that this passing of the St. Aloysius School leadership baton would be passed on to her and I can personally attest that this was the last communication he had with me (and others) about this matter. So when I had the privilege to announce Mrs. Erin Candilora as the new principal, it was really an appointment coming from each of us.

If there is one characteristic I can assign to Mr. John Bennett, other than the love of his Catholic Faith and his professional expertise, it is that he was able to perform his duties of leadership with a sense of joy. Education and discipline are a serious matter, but John Bennett made it a joy. One can easily say that he made it fun. I know that Fr. Than enjoyed working with him just as it is for me. God bless Mr. John Bennett and may God give him good health and a long time to enjoy his family, especially his grandchildren. I am confident that given the chance to be involved in any way in St. Aloysius School in the future, if he wishes, he will.

Yours in Christ,

From Fr. Burns
